Starsoft Services - On-Demand Development

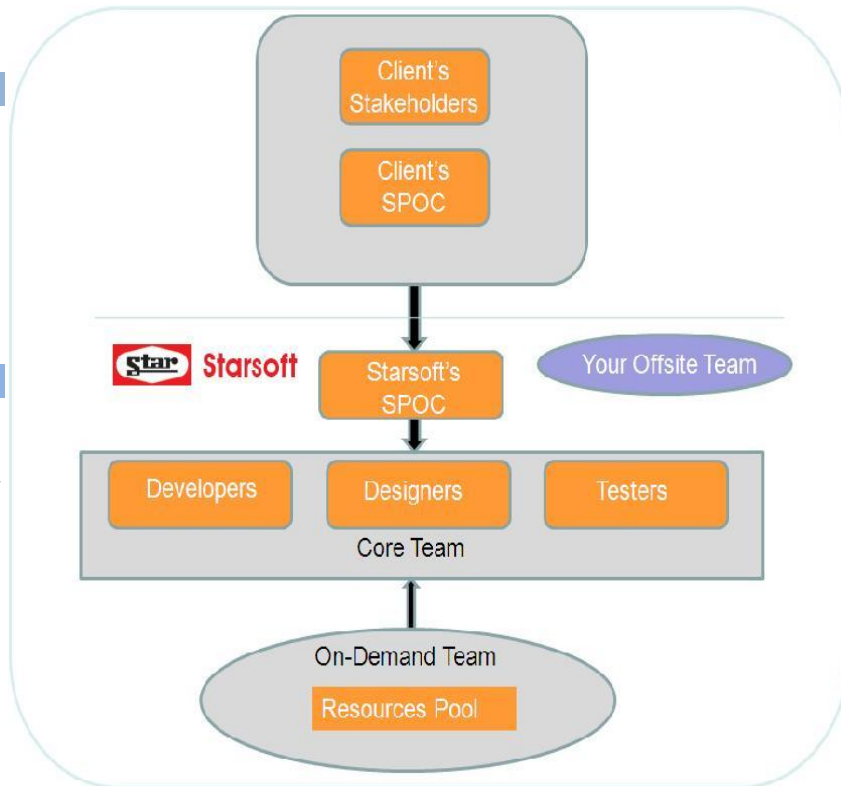

Starsoft’s On-Demand business model enables clients with the flexibility of resource ramp up and ramp down based on their specific client’s requirements. Our On-Demand Team consists of key resources who are dedicated to servicing clients’ existing as well as future requirements. The objective is to establish a support team who understand client’s strategies, processes, methodologies, technology and domain. With the team well versed with client’s business and processes the resource ramp-up to meet unexpected surge in requirement is a key benefit. This approach avails the client of the capability to bid for new business without concerns as to resource management.

Challenges

- Unexpected surge in requirements
- Resources availability to bid new and large scale business opportunities
- Attrition and HR costs
- Knowledge Transfer Cost
- Infrastructure and Development Costs

Benefits
